Figures Are Based on About One-third of Total of the Ballots Cast in State, and Result May Yet Be Considerably Changed-Harmon and Wilson Contest Is So Close that Winner Cannot Yet Be Told.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Collymbus (O.) May 22—With to modern politics, to bessirch Gov little more than one-third of the total vote in the State counted at 1 o'clock this morning, Col. Roose velt's delegates on the Republicant Cicket and Gov. Harmon on the Democratic preference ballot, led Ohlo's first Presidential preference primary. The fight on both tickets was no close, however, that complete returns may change final results.

Complete returns from slightly less than 2000 precincts of 5192 in the State showed that Col. Rooseveit's delegates had a lead of more than 15,800 votes.

Gov. Harmon's lead over Woodrow Wilson was much less than this. The closeness of this race with Wilson was indicated by late reports from Cincinnati, Gov. Harmon's home city. Here the Ohlo Governor, who had been well in the lead in the carly returns, was shown to have 1953 votes and Wilson 1994, in 130 precincts out of a total of 351.

The peculiar situation developed in the compliation of the results. This showed that while Col. Rooseveit had a lead of 15,000 in the total number of votes cast for delegates pledged to him, the vote by districts would be such that he probably would not he foretold.

IMPORTANT DISCUSSIONS.

SOME OF THE LAWS.

A resolution which empowers a committee to act as lobbyists to the state. Legislature will be presented before the convention.

The laws in which club women are particularly interested are:

1—Equal guardianship of fathers and mothers over their children.

3—An improvement of the community property rights law.

3—A tuberculin test for dairy cattle which shall be State-wide.

4—Raising the age of consent from 16 to 15.

5—The establishment of a minimum wage for women.

Does this seem to the skeptical man like a colossal burden for the club woman? She is going to meet the question with strength for the burden and grace for the song.

If she, like "Chantecler," believes it is her song that brings the day, do not disillusion her. She can work better so. Let her believe.

KLAMATH FALLS (Or.) May 21.

—(Exclusive Dispatch.] Police and deputy sheriffs are seeking to solve the mysterious disappearance of Anthony Castle, wealthy pioneer, last seen at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. His two months' bride has not seen him since early Saturday. No reason for his disappearance has been discovered. Castle was about 50 years of age, and was once county surveyor and postmaster of Klamath Falls. Unless trace be found today, Link River and Lake Euwana will be dragged. IMPORTANT DISCUSSIONS.

At the president's council, held at the very beginning of the convention, the most important discussion will be "Political Movements by Clubs." Many of the leading women chatting together informally at luncheon in the car seem to think an indorsement of this movement is inevitable now that women have the franchise. The boundaries for the six State districts may be changed and this council will ded cide concerning the continued publication of the ciub organ.

Mrs. Calvin Hartwell of Pasadena will preside at the delegates' conference, which is held at the same hour, when much pleasure will be afforded by the old vexed question of dues. Shall the larger clubs be allowed to reduce their tax?

The Ebell Club of Los Angeles has a splendid representation at the convention and members of the federation at home may be assured that this loyal club will not withdraw if amendment V is not adopted. They are altruistic and generous Perhaps the dearest project of the whole State. IMPORTANT DISCUSSIONS.

A WEATHER RECORD.

muddle; and France the land of satirical wit. Abdul Baha, the Persian prophet, says the Chicago Herald, antily describes America as the land of "all right." "These two magical words are not to be heard in any other country, while here they are on every-lody's lips at all times. They reflect optimism, energy, go-aheadness. Such generalizations are said to be dangerous. They are in themselves worth little to the serious thinker. But first impressions are not wholly devoid of value. There are cases where the last impressions fully confirm them. The style, after all, is the man, and a unition's style is the nation. Phrases, idioms, mannerisms, salient traits do point to deep realities and certain fundamental conditions. Let sociologists dig and analyse, but for rough current speech the Persian prophet's observation is good enough. America is the All-Right nation."

U. S. Grant Post of Omaha has passed a resolution calling upon Congress "to enact a law ruling that such indignity to the flag is an act of less majeste against the visible sovereign authority of the United States; that it is an act both of contempt and of rebellion against the national authority—an act of treason for which the guilty persons shall suffer death."

During the Spanish War the Illinois Legislature passed an act making it a crime to

During the Spanish War the Illinois Legislature passed an act making it a crime to use the flag for advertising purposes. The act was adjudged unconstitutional by the Illinois Supreme Court, but advertisers took notice of the public sentiment that was embodied in the law and discontinued defacing the flag with appeals to purchase pills or overalls. A Sunday-school superintendent ordered from a manufacturer several hundred little flags for distribution among the scholars and directed that the emblems should have printed upon them some appropriate motio. When he entered the schoolroom on the Sabbath morning he was greeted by patriotic boys and girls waving little flags on which was inscribed:

"Remember the Maine,"

"Remember the Maine, To hell with Spain." The death penalty for desceration of the fing which the old boys petitioned Congress to enact would be of course too severe, but there ought to be a law to punish with im-emblem with disrespect.

The Socialists and I-Won't-Workers who insuit our national emblem are usually men of foreign birth. If they have been naturalised their naturalisation was a political vaccination that never "took." No American-born man whose blood corpuscles have not been whitened with the poison of anarchy will ever insult the emblem of our country's greatness and giery. It is the banner of the grandest achievements and the sublimest hopes. Amid "the rockets' red giare, the hombs bursting in air," it waved above the battlements of Moultrie. The dying Lawrence looked up to it and cried, "Don't give up the ship." Under its shelter a wilderness of fishing pools and forests was changed into a land of factories and farms. It crossed the mountains and protected the Argonauts who redeemed from stillness and sterility the Pacific empire which stretches through thirty degrees of latitude. It lights the faces of far-off Orient races. Prosperity, peace and freedom stride beneath its folds. Accursed be the hand that would dishoner its stripes or pollute its stars.

THE SAN DIEGO INCIDENT.

In order to "vindicate the right" of a few jawamiths to preach socialism and anarchy on the corners of the principal streets of San Diego was it necessary for idle, dissolute and disorderly vagrants to flock to that city by hundreds from northern and central and Southern California? How could these foreign tramps "vindicate the right of free speech" by attending street meetings and flinging their caps into the air whenever the speaker uttered distribes against property? Is it not plain to any man who has the brains to comprehend and the candor to admit a self-evident proposition that the hegira of undesirable citizens to San Diego was inspired by other motives than a purpose to "vindicate" the right of brawlers to brawl on the cate" the right of brawlers to brawl on the public highway?

And if these tramps went to San Diego for some other purpose than merely to attend open-air Socialist meetings, what was that other purpose? It may not probably be accurately and specifically stated. With some it was doubtless a purpose to participate in the looting of the city which it was, expected might follow the disorder which a conflict with the municipal authorities might precipitate. With others it was a purpose to join the Mexican insurrectos and, from the border town of Tia Juans, make night and day raids into San Diego, escaping with their plunder to Mexican soil where American forces could not follow them. Or, if they did follow them, it would be to incur bitter denunciation from American "progressive" newspapers, whose editors would print long and labored philippies against an "intervention" that would be charged to "lasthsome capitalism" seeking to "exploit" Mexican territory.

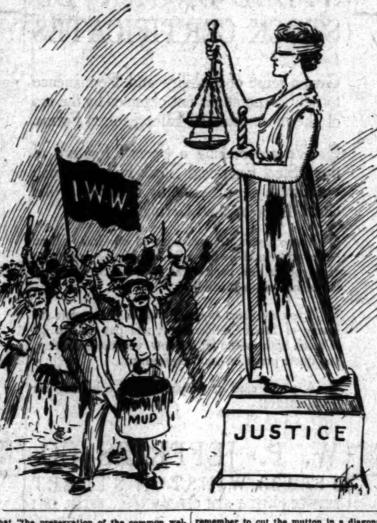

The citizens of San Diego did what the citizens of a hundred American communities all over the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific have done hundreds of times. They organized a vigilance committee. It is an ancient as well as a modern maxim that "silent leges inter arma." Vigilance committees are not authorized to issue judicial writs, or summonses, or subpoenas, nor are they in the habit of listening to motions for continuance or for change of venue.

The San Diego vigilantes peaceably es-corted Emms Goldman out of the city. They gave her representative and agent a covering of tar and sagebrush leaves, and one enthusiast, it is said, used the lighted end of a cigar. They recommended a cou-ple of lawyers to make their exodus from the city—a recommendation that was not heeded. That was all.

But Mr. Weinstock, Gov. Johnson's com-missioner, flumboyantly reported that "the tortures employed by the San Diego vigi-lantes out-Cossack the most blood-curdling tales of Russian barbarity."

A hysterical Los Angeles newspaper, which always sneetes when Gov. Johnson takes snuff, brings its heavy artillery of denuscistery adjectives to bear upon the vigilantes who—somewhat vigorously—represented the interests of the home owners of San Diego. It says that "they are unfit to be kept at freedom;" that "they are menaces to the welfare of society;" that "they should be confined as if they were wild beasts revenously menacing public safety;"

They are using the subject's prerogative in the last resource and signing a petition to the King, praying that he will delay giving his royal assent to the measure until it has been put before the country to be voted upon as a single and definite issue. They allege that on this occasion it is being rushed through Parliament by a scrap majority, made up of Nationalists and labor members, each trading their support for some measure of their own; that on each of the previous occasions when home rule has been put to the country Gladstone received an overwhelming majority against it; that there is still an overwhelming msjority against it, but that since the veto of the House of Lords has

Gladstone received an overwhelming majority against it; that there is still an overwhelming majority against it, but that since the veto of the House of Lords has been suspended there is no safeguard to prevent the measure passing.

The petition is signed by the million, and feeling is running very high, for only in the event of a national crisis is such a method invoked. And there is little doubt that the King would accede to such an apparently moderate request, but for one thing. Her Majesty the Queen is reported to be a strong home-ruler. One does not envy the King-Emperor his position for the next six weeks. The government declares loudly that a King must accept the advice of his ministers—and the Queen is on the side of the ministers. The opposition says that if the King is a reality and not a figurehead, if his royal assent means anything at all, if, indeed, he is the King-Emperor, protector of the people, now is his chance to show his power. To refuse the petition of several million subjects and a petition, on the face of it, so reasonable and moderate, is a large responsibility to take, yet to grant it will be [New York Tribune:] Andrew D. RANDOM COMMENT IN THE LITERARY WORLD.

BY WILLARD H. WRIGHT.

The publication of three of Strindberg's most characteristic plays by Charles Scribner's Sons last month, and the production of "The Father" in New York, have done much toward focusing literary attention upon this terrible man from Bweden. He is called the Swedish Shakespeare, but he bears about as much relation to the bard of Avon as a stick of dynamite does to a marshmallow. Strindberg is an extra Nietzsche, a super-Shaw and a trans-Exea. He is the final word in literary dynamics. Take all of your brutal and heretical modern plays, including those of Tolstoy, Andrelyev, Gorky, Hauptmann, Budermann, Ibsen, Brieux, Becque, Shaw and Granville Barker; roll them together and you will have a taste of some of the dramatic flavoring to be encountered in Strindberg's work. For downright shastly cynicism, for the deepest reaches of horror, no one has as yet succeeded in attaining the degree of intensity to be found in this man's plays. He doesn't merely content himself with smashing idols; he pulverizes them. He stands alone as the supreme demolisher in the dramatic world. If you don't believe it, first read "Ghosts;" then sit down and spend an hour or so with "The Father," "Motherlove" and "The Crediton" Evon "Julie" stands things so completely on their heads that for the moment one despairs of ever setting them straight.

"The Father" tells the story of a wife who drives her husband insane by subtly suggesting to him that the child he loves is not his own. The final curtain goeddown with the husband gibbering in a strait-jacket. Pleasant and entertaining stuff.—but so diabelically sincere that the reader or the spectator feels his scalp contract.

reader or the spectator fecis his scalp contract.

As a hater of women Strindberg has no equal. Even Nietzsche found a few redeeming traits in women, but this Scandinavian is as terrific an enemy as the fair sex has ever inspired. Strindberg has been married and divorced three times. There is no doubt that he is mentally unbalanced. He himself has admitted his insanity. His neurasthenia drives him, at intervals, into an asylum. America, however, seems to be doing well by him. Eight or ten of his plays have been published and the critics have unloosed the floodgates of praise. The women's clubs have fallen into line; and from all indications this demoniacal immoralist will soon be a household word. Culture is upon us!

Word comes from Russia, via Mr. Bernard Aston, that the Russian church is still busy discovering literary herefics. On behalf of the Orthodox Missionsry Congress, Archbishop Volynsk Antonius has presented the Holy Synod with a plan for "methods of struggle with the neo-pagan tendencies of modern Russian literature." Archbishop Antonius lists as neo-pagan: Leonid Andreivev, Maxim Gorky, Protopopoff, Artsybascheff, Dmitri Mereshkovsky Rosanoff and numerous political and social writers, including Prof. P. Millukoff. All these are "essentially pagan in spirit and tendency." They are "guilty of debasing religious thought and of fostering an atmosphere of atheism, blasphemy and commination." The congress demands that some of these writers be forced to submit to "a course of church penifence;" and that others shall receive "edifying instruction" from specially-chosen clergymen, in the hope that they may repent their sins. "Some of them." anys the report, "are as bad as the dead pagan, Tolstoy."

A comparison of the reports from the dope sheets of "The Bookman" as to the best-selling books throughout the United. States reveals the interesting fact that a better class of books was popular in Los Angeles during March then in any other city in the country. Here are the six best selling books locally: "Queed." by Harrison: "The Position of Peggy," by Merrick; "Pollycoly," by Jepson; "Ethan Frome," by Wharton; "The Heart of Life," by De Coulevain; "The Song of Renny," by Hewlett. With the exception of the third book, there is not one which cannot be read without loss of self-respect. In fact, it is rather to one's credit to have read the other five. They are all serious literary efforts, far abesid of the "popular" standard, and indi-

They are all serious literary efforts, far ahead of the "popular" standard, and indicate taste and discrimination on the part of the reader.

The best-selling books for the whole United States are as follows:

"The Harvester," by Stratton-Porter;

"A Hoosier Chronicle," by Nichelson;

"The Winning of Barbara Worth," by Wrights

"He Comes Up Smiling," by Sherman;

"John Rawn," by Hough;

"He Comes Up Smiling," by Sherman;
"John Rawn," by Hough;
"Tante," by Sedgwick.
An interesting commentary. With the one exception of "Tante," which is the last on the list and which receives only about a third as many points as "The Harvester," there is not a book which would not irritate the discriminating. "The Harvester" is sentimental and at times ridiculous moonshine. "A Hoosier Chronicle" is mediocrity. "The Winning of Barbara Worth" is sheer pennya-liner platitude. "He Comes Up Smiling" is a silly romance of the O-you-kid variety. And "John Rawn" it Rooseveltian socialism done into an unconvincing narrative. onvincing narrative.

"Why, solendid luck, of course, he replied. Didn't the boy bring that dozen bass I gave him?"

KILBANE CATCHES A TARTAR IN JIMMY WALSH AT BOSTON.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) B OBTON, May 21.—After twelve rounds of hard fighting Jimmy Walsh held Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world, to a draw here last night. The showing of Walsh was a surprise to all the fans, as Johnny was a favorite, but Jimmy boxed like a title holder and had the champ in trouble several times.

The match was characterised by fast, scientific boxing throughout. For the first eight rounds the men took matters easy, with honors about even. Kilbane was most effective at infighting, while Walsh balanced up the score with telling straight-arm jabs at long range.

Walsh's mouth bled slightly in the fourth from a swing on the face, but apparently it did not bother him.

We don't include the transportation in this great offer, nor the tent, in fact, nothing but food—and that is food for thought.

Just about as fast as the calendar moves around comes that old question, "Where shall we spend our vacation this year?"

To answer this question for all concerned, SUNSET has made the June issue a special CALIFORNIA VACATION LAND mm ber, and to be frank, it is the best number of the magazine ever ison—and that's saying a good deal. SUNSET, the Pacific Monthly is noted for beautiful pictures, but the June issue surpasses all other These beautiful pictures answer the vacation question.

There are lots of your friends in the East who are asking this question. Why not please them and at the same time do a bit of sionary work for California. Sending a few dozen copies to friends will likely result in a few of them choosing California in of Europe this year—the Los Angeles Beaches instead of Newpor Shasta instead of the Alps. If you'll do your share, and it will you only fifteen cents for one copy or fifteen dollars for a hundit will be one more boost for California—and that's what California—

A Cash Dividend of $217,604.31

Los Angeles Investment Company stock is recognized throughout the Southwest as a splendid dividend-payer. The Company's last cash dividend, being the sixty-fifth paid since the Company was established in the city, went to 11,582 stockholders, and totalled $217,604.81. This makes the dividends paid by the Company the past year, reach the amazing sum of $750,271.55; three-quarters of a mil-

The Los Angeles Investment Company is one of the largest if not the largest corporation in the country, in point of stockholders. Over eleven thousand persons are participating in its earnings, part of which are paid out regularly in cash. For sixteen years it has been making money for its stockholders, and has paid a total of 641% in dividends or an average of about 89% a year. Such is its past record—a record which stamps it as having been the one great investment opportunity in its own particular field.

The Los Angeles Investment Company owns today millions upon millions of dollars worth of the finest Los Angeles property obtainable. These holdings include seven splendid downtown business sites, and more than $200 acres of subdvision property, some of which it has partly developed. The business of the Company is based primarily on the ownership of land—the basis of all wealth.

With a wonderfully growing city back of it, with a population which is ever increasing, with land values rising, an investment of $1.00 or more in Los Angeles Investment Company stock, is today as good or better an investment than it was sixteen years ago.

Bank Holds Money-Back Fund

The Globe Savings Bank of Los Angeles, as manager of the Guarantee Fund, gives as positive a guarantee against loss as can be devised. The Bank holds over $100,000.00 ready to buy Los Angeles Investment Company stock from those who wish to sell. It has invariably returned on demand to every stockholder in the Los Ang Investment Company, his money in full if he wished it. To date this fund has purchased more than $1,000,000.00 worth of the Company's stock, buying every share offered it. During the panic of 1907 the Guarantee Fund paid spot cash for every share of Los Angeles Investment Company stock handed it for sale. One hundred thousand dollars is ready. If you want your money back, take or mail your stock certificate to the Globe Savings Bank. No investor in the Los Angeles Investment Company or in any of its securities has ever failed to have his investment returned to him in full on demand. This is a record of sixteen years.
